RSC-BMCS Membership Subscription Renewal

The BMCS were winners of the RSC's Inspirational Committee Award 2015 in recognition of the diversity and breadth of impact of the outreach work undertaken. When renewing your RSC membership subscription, please remember to tick the BMCS membership box. This will also allow us to continue to keep you informed of future BMCS events and benefits. Please pass this notice on to any non-member colleagues who may be interested in joining the BMCS or attending any of our events.

PhD Student and Post-Doc Conference Bursaries

Did you know that most BMCS sponsored meetings have a number of bursaries available for PhD and post-doctoral students? Normally up to a value of £250, these awards help to cover costs, including registration and travel. Preference will be given to members of the RSC (and meeting co-sponsors if applicable), especially those who are selected to give posters.

The BMCS International Travel Prize

Each year, the BMCS offers a number of Travel Prizes for use in the following year, up to a value of £1,500, to post-graduate students enrolled in research programmes (PhD or Masters) in UK institutions. The closing date for applications is typically mid-November.

Capps Green Zomaya Memorial Award

Nominations for this biennial award in medicinal or computational chemistry are invited, and the awardee is judged on having made an important contribution to the discovery or development of new medicines. Nominees should be up to the age of 40, the value of the Award is £2,000, and the awardee is asked to deliver a presentation at the Medicinal Chemistry in Eastern England symposium held in May the following year.

Malcolm Campbell Memorial Prize

Nominations for this biennial prize are invited for an individual or team who has made the most significant scientific contribution to biological chemistry. The prize-winner(s) may be from academia or industry, and their work should be timely and contemporaneous. The Prize has a value of £2,000, and is presented at the RSC / SCI Cambridge MedChem symposium in September.

The RSC BMCS Lectureship

Each year, the awardee will be expected to deliver up to six lectures at six UK universities in one academic year, aimed particularly at first-year undergraduates, including an initial lecture as part of the RSC's series of Thursday evening public lectures. The closing date for applications is typically end of October during the previous year. Dr Andrew Thomas of F Hoffman-La Roche will hold the BMCS Lectureship in 2018/19.

Hall of Fame and Medal

The BMCS is pleased to announce the inauguration of The Hall of Fame and associated medal to recognise prominent chemists for outstanding, sustained, significant contributions to any area of interest to the BMCS, eg medicinal chemistry, agriscience, bioorganic chemistry, chemical biology. Independent nominations may be submitted from March to September.
