RSC-BMCS Membership Subscription Renewal

The BMCS was recently awarded the RSC's Inspirational Committee Award, in recognition of the diversity and breadth of impact of the outreach work undertaken by BMCS. Please help us to continue this work by remembering to indicate membership of BMCS on your RSC subscription renewal form. This will also allow us to continue to keep you informed of future BMCS events and benefits. Please pass this notice on to any non-member colleagues who may be interested in joining the BMCS or attending any of our events.

PhD Student and Post-Doc Conference Bursaries

Did you know that most BMCS sponsored meetings have a number of bursaries available for PhD and post-doctoral students? Normally up to a value of £250, these awards are to help cover registration and travel costs. Preference will be given to members of the RSC (and meeting co-sponsors if applicable), especially those who are selected to give posters. Further details can be found at www.rsc.org/bmcs or by contacting the Secretary of the BMCS through the same link, stating which meeting you are interested in.

Contacts

To register an interest in any of the events overleaf, to receive updates, or to be kept informed of all forthcoming RSC-BMCS events, please e-mail the RSC-BMCS Secretariat below in the first instance. For more information about the BMCS and its activities, please visit the BMCS website below.

International Travel Prize 2018

The BMCS is pleased to announce it will be offering a number of Travel Prizes for use in 2018 of up to £1,500 in value to post-graduate students currently enrolled in research programmes (PhD or Masters) in UK institutions. The purpose of the Travel Prizes is to support the attendance of the student at an international scientific meeting of their choice, in the area of organic, biological or medicinal chemistry, through funding wholly, or in part, of registration, accommodation and travel costs. The Travel Prizes will be awarded on a competitive basis to students who complete the application process and are subsequently selected by the BMCS committee. Successful applicants will be also expected to present their work, in either oral or poster form, at the meeting for which the Travel Prize has been awarded, or at an appropriate RSC/BMCS organised meeting. Travel Prizes should be taken up in 2018, and to that end applications should be submitted to the BMCS by 17th November 2017. Successful applicants will be notified by 12th January 2018. Please see www.rsc.org/bmcs.
